

Elizabeth Eun,
Chief Financial Officer

Liz Eun is the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) of Student Veterans of America (SVA) from Marcum LLP. Liz has over 30 years of public accounting experience focused exclusively on nonprofits. As the CFO for SVA, Liz oversees the financial operations of SVA and leads the accounting team to maintain effective and efficient financial processes, systems and controls as well as ensure compliance with financial regulatory and donor requirements. Liz serves as a business partner to the leadership team of SVA and provides support and guidance in strategic matters related to financial operations and requirements.

At Marcum, Liz is one of four partners overseeing Managed Accounting Services practice. She joined the Firm (as Raffa) in 1991, when the firm had just 13 employees, and has helped grow Raffa into the 300+ employee, mission-driven firm we know today (prior to the merger). Her clientele of nonprofit entities includes national and international charitable organizations, trade associations, and private foundations. Her teams provide an array of accounting, consulting and business advisory services including assessments of financial operations, outsourced accounting/financial management services, and interim CFO services.

Liz is a CPA licensed in the District of Columbia and graduated from George Mason University. She serves as a Board member, Treasurer, and Finance and Audit Committee Chair of the Association Mutual Health Insurance Company. She is married, lives in Virginia and has two adult children, who are married. She enjoys playing golf, watching movies and hanging out with her many friends.
